Interstate Commission for EMS Personnel Practice selects Ray Mollers as its Executive Director

The Interstate Commission for EMS Personnel Practice (ICEMSPP) is pleased to announce the appointment of Mr. Ray Mollers as its first Executive Director. Mr. Mollers will be Commission's principal administrator and responsible for the day-to-day management of the EMS Compact while leading growth, strengthening operations, and increasing collaboration with state and federal EMS officials, partner organizations, and stakeholders.

Ray Mollers
*EMS Compact
Executive Director*

Ray joins the EMS Compact team after serving as the Director of Stakeholder Partnerships with the National Registry of Emergency Medical Technicians (NREMT). During his time at the National Registry, he managed stakeholder relationships and led the creation of a team responsible for enhancing partnerships, improving collaboration amongst EMS professionals, and increasing communication with stakeholders and State EMS Offices. Prior to the National Registry, he served our nation with 32 years of combined Federal service with the US Army Special Forces and Department of Homeland Security's Office of Health Affairs.

"Today, over 300,000 EMS personnel in the United States have a multi-state privilege to practice", said Joseph Schmider, Chairperson of the ICEMSPP Executive Committee. "With over 20 participating states, it was evident that the EMS Compact needed a full time Executive Director. Ray is an accomplished, humble professional. He was involved with the initial conceptual discussions of an EMS Compact a decade ago and has remained a key advocate since. Ray understands the EMS Compact – its purpose and history – and has established relationships with State EMS Offices and other key national partners."

"I am so honored and excited to carry forward all the hard work done to date and shepherd the EMS Compact into its next chapter," says Mr. Mollers.

Ray will start his service as the EMS Compact's Executive Director on September 20, 2021. Dan Manz, the EMS Compact's Educator is retiring, but will continue working in that position through the end of 2021 to assure a smooth transition.
